"A Hoop of Gold."

This play will be given at the Opera House this evening by the ever popular favorites Joseph Grismer and Phoebe Davies supported by a carefully selected company. Of the play the London Times says:

"On Saturday, the 8th instant, Mortimer Murdoch's drama, 'A Hoop of Gold,' was produced at this theater (Sadler's Wells) before a house crowded from pit to gallery. Filled with thrilling incidents and exciting situations, allied to sparkling dialogue, the play was an assured success from the very first; nor did the interest flag as the story proceeded, as is often the case. Each act seemed better than its predecessor, and we must congratulate Mr. Murdoch upon having written one of the best constructed dramas produced in modern times. There is little doubt that 'A Hoop of Gold' will enjoy the popularity it deserves."

Tomorrow evening "The Field of Honor," or "Ruth's Devotion."

Surprised Chinamen.

Yesterday morning about 9:30 as the Mongolian foreman of the Chinese wash-house opposite the St. Charles was squirting starch over the underwear on the ironing table, there was a loud crash and the splinters began to fly in every direction. The tongue of a buggy appeared through the side of the house. An investigation showed that Dr. Herrick's team ran away and had banged square into the Chinese wash-house shaking the frail building to its foundation and smashing things generally to flinders. It was a lively run away and a few more like it will knock the Chinese wash-house into kindling wood.

G C. WHITE, P. M.

—The New York press is greatly exercised over the fact that Nevada has a representation in the United States Senate equal to that of the State of New York. Let the metropolitan bohemians comfort themselves with the fact that though Nevada's Senators may count less constituents at their backs, yet as a whole, in brains and personal influence, they have been fully equal to the New York Senators. Nevada, through her Senators, has exercised a greater influence in the councils and upon the silver and mining policy of the nation than has New York. Let the jaded wine, Nevada's withers are unwrinkled.—Salt Lake Democrat.

The Regents' Report

The report of the Board of Regents was presented to the Legislature yesterday afternoon. The punctilio of official etiquette was strictly observed; the Clerk of the Board of Regents, M. D. Noteware, appearing at the bar of the Senate with the report. It is a formidable document of nearly forty closely written pages and includes the financial exhibits, engravings of the new building, diagrams of the various floors and the reports of Professors Willis and McCammon. Regent H. G. Shaw, who has been in Carson during the last week, has been engaged in its preparation. The Report covers all the transactions of the Board during the years 1885 and 1886. The thoroughness with which this branch of the public business has been discharged is revealed in every line of this interesting State paper; probably one of the ablest ever written in Nevada, as well as a model of polished diction. The operations connected with the transfer of the University from Elko to Reno are given in detail and many valuable suggestions are submitted for the conduct of the institution in future. Among the recommendations are that ten additional acres be purchased, that the building be completed, the grounds be improved, that one more teacher be added to the Academic Department and that a Department of Mechanics be established. These additions to the curriculum, the Regents claim, can be provided at an annual expenditure of $12,000.

The proposal to establish a Normal School as a part of the University is claimed to be unconstitutional also the proposition to increase the number of Regents. The action of the Board in advancing the price of all State lands contiguous to streams of water is vigorously defended; the Board claiming that it has thereby added to the State School Fund nearly $6000 which would not have been there but for the land order of the Regents. Land Register Preble is charged with scant official courtesy toward the Board and with carrying out its order in only a perfunctory manner. The Board claims that if the Legislature delegates the power to any body to fix the price it should either remain with the Regents or be vested in the State Board of Education, as the only interests directly affected by the exercise of this power are those connected with the administration of educational affairs. The report suggests that all the legislation adopted since the State was organized in respect to the apportionment and appropriation of the interest on the School and University Funds is unconstitutional. An amendment to the organic law is desired so as to empower the Regents to accept gifts, bequests or endowments for the exclusive use of the University. A delicately implied rebuke for the present Governor and State Treasurer is involved in the statement, contrary to the official message of the former that a quorum has always been present at every meeting of the Board, regular or special, and in the statement regarding the Treasurer that the first knowledge possessed by the Board of the redemption of $22,000 worth of Nevada State bonds belonging to the University was conveyed to them a year later, only in the Treasurer's annual report. Brimful of suggestions and fortified throughout with facts on record the Regents' Report will likely, when printed, prove the most readable document of the Thirteenth Session.

Using Logan's Name for Swindling Purposes.

CHICAGO, January 21—A scheme to use General Logan's name for swindling purposes, was discovered here to-day. Solicitors, representing they were about to publish under the auspices of the Grand Army of the Republic, a life of General Logan, a part of the proceeds to go to Mrs. Logan, took orders for books at ten cents each, and sold the back page of the cover of the whole edition to a number of persons for $50. When the book came out the advertisers discovered the advertisements only published in a few copies. The G. A. R. repudiates any connection with the affair. The printer of the book refuses to say who the principals in the scheme are.
